ATLANTA: RenderATL, the trailblazing annual tech conference and networking mecca in Atlanta is pleased to kick off the 2023 flagship conference that is set to take place from May 31 to June 2. An event like no other, this technology conference is the brainchild of tech industry vanguards and curated for the very professionals who work in the industry each day. At RenderATL code is just as important as culture and talent is king. From a small gathering of tech professionals in its first year to welcoming more than 3,000 attendees in 2022, RenderATL has quickly become the largest tech event to ever take place in Atlanta. This year's event promises to propel the technology sector in Atlanta to new heights with innovative programming and networking opportunities.

A celebration of community, RenderATL boasts a multitude of networking moments by welcoming its diverse attendees, with opportunity and access being paramount. The multi-day event brings together professionals from across the tech industry who will gather at Americasmart in Atlanta for three jam-packed days of speakers, networking, and more. Highlighted speakers this year include industry leaders such as David Beitel, Chief Technology Officer (CTO) of Zillow; David Barrett, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Expensify; Felecia Hatcher, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Black Ambition Project; and Daylon A. Goff, President of JET.

"I was inspired to create RenderATL because when people think of big tech cities, Atlanta really isn't on their radar," said Justin Samuels, Founder and CEO of RenderATL. "After being in the industry for years, and having participated in several conferences in the past, I knew that there was a gap in the market that was missing in the southeast. Atlanta is filled with incredible diversity and culture, and the city provides a home base for so many industry-leading companies. For that reason, it just made perfect sense to bring everyone together to celebrate Atlanta as a tech hub."

Each day of RenderATL will give guests access to the most sought-after keynote speakers, featuring 80+ experts in tech covering software engineering practices, web3, engineering leadership, accessibility practices, and more. For the full list of speakers, visit www.renderatl.com/#speakers. The event will also feature incredible Southern cuisine, networking opportunities, workshops, and a musical concert headlined by Kaytranada.
