ATLANTA: Halloween weekend isn't over yet! For those celebrating the spookiest time of year all weekend long, NETHERWORLD Haunted House is keeping the screams alive for two more weekends – Nov. 1–2 and Nov. 7–8 – giving fans one last chance to experience the blockbuster 2025 haunts: MONSTERS ATTACK! and OBLIVION: RETURN OF THE MANGLER featuring GRENDDEL'S FEAST.

The scares don't stop once guests exit the haunts – the Halloween Midway will also be open on the final nights, featuring monster meet-and-greets, creepy photo ops, spooky games, and fan-favorite snacks like mini donuts, nachos, bratwurst, vegan corn dogs, and "Blood Bags" filled with drinkable concoctions. For those craving more year-round thrills, visitors can also check out Escape the NETHERWORLD, featuring five immersive escape games, or explore the House of Creeps Monster Museum for a dose of horror history and movie memorabilia.

And for the first time ever, NETHERWORLD will also offer a special Lights-On Tour day experience during the final weekend on Nov. 7 and 8, inviting guests to explore the attraction in a whole new way. The behind-the-scenes tour offers an intimate, 75-minute guided walk through both haunts, allowing fans to see the sets, creatures, and effects up close – without the screams, fog, and flashing lights. Each tour includes a knowledgeable guide, photo opportunities inside the haunts, and admission to the House of Creeps Monster Museum.

"We wanted to do something special to wrap up this incredible season," said Ben Armstrong, NETHERWORLD Co-Creator. "The Lights-On Tours let guests step into the haunts in a much more personal way – you can take your time, see the details, ask questions, and really appreciate the artistry behind everything. It's a perfect encore for anyone who's already visited this year or just wants one last taste of Halloween."

Lights On Tour tickets are $125 per person and extremely limited, with groups of up to eight people per session. Advance purchase is strongly encouraged. Guests should note that Lights-On Tours are separate from evening haunt admission and do not include access to the fully operational haunted house during nighttime hours.
