ATLANTA: This December, bassist and bandleader Kevin Scott brings together an incomparable lineup of A-list musicians for the 10th Annual Allstar Holiday Revival, a high-energy holiday dance party taking over Variety Playhouse. A beloved Atlanta tradition, the show has historically delivered an eclectic mix of music all blended with festive seasonal classics for just the right dose of holiday spirit.

"Our intention is threefold: to showcase the amazing musicians in our local community, raise money for some wonderful organizations, and put on a killer show," said Matthew Wilson, Owner of Good Times Productions and event producer. "Kevin Scott is a superb bandleader, and nobody is better at building a dynamic assortment of talent, conspirators, and collaborators to do just that."

This year's milestone production features an extraordinary roster of performers, including below + more special guests to be announced:

- Kevin Scott (Gov't Mule, John McLaughlin, Col. Bruce Hampton, Jimmy Herring)
- Marcus King
- Charlie Starr & Benji Shanks (Blackberry Smoke)

Kevin Scott's 10th Annual Allstar Holiday Revival is the holiday tradition that we need. Happy! Merry! Hark! and Funk! Interviews are available upon request.

The show will benefit Backline, The Georgia Music Foundation, and Vermin Sanctuary and is presented by Good Times Productions, the Atlanta-based promotion company behind Hampton 70 (70th birthday celebration for Col. Bruce Hampton, 2017), Atlanta Pop (2019), Zee Day Soire (2021), Kevin Scott's Funkmas (2022 and 2024).

Backline is a 501(c)(3) non-profit that connects music industry professionals and their families with mental health and wellness resources. Backline's mission is to build a safer and more supportive music industry by helping the music community access quality mental health care providers that understand the industry and its challenges. Georgia Music Foundation supports programs of music education, preservation and outreach while fostering an appreciation for the state's rich music heritage. Established in 1994, Georgia Music Foundation has spent nearly three decades working with valued partners statewide to support programs that preserve the state's music history, provide opportunities for students to participate in music education and promote Georgia's music communities. Vermin Sanctuary is a Tennessee-based 501(c)(3), founded by Kara Kirkland, dedicated to the rescue, rehab, and release of injured and orphaned native wildlife – especially raccoons, opossums, and other misunderstood species.
